DEDICATION

TO the Reverend Instructors, who so willingly sacrificed their time to give us a sound basis of Catholic principle and practice, thereby preparing us for life in a country whose constitution safeguards religious rights, the Senior

JUNIORS

147 girls and 132 boys made up this year's class of juniors. To make sure of a cooperative spirit between the seven homerooms officers were elected, each room having a representative on the governing board. The officers were Harold Berg, president; Loretta Rohan, vice-president; Betsy Rohr, secretary; George Holzbauer, Leonard Durch, Gilbert Stoltman, and Mildred La Croix, counsellors.

Their first public appearance came in the form of a Columbus Day Program.

Early in the term the class began to think of the biggest social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Reception. In preparation for it, and to become better acquainted they met in the gym at regular intervals for dancing. To make it easier for the bashful boy to ask the one and only a skit "How Roger Did It" was presented to an assembly of juniors and seniors. Helen Kling was the author. The players were: Maureen Drury, Virginia Gough, Catherine Weslowski, John Weiss, John Schreibeis, and Ed Mueller.

At the mid-term incoming juniors were properly initiated.

That there is plenty of talent in this group was proved when they presented their amateur program, part of a competitive contest conducted under the direction of the Student Council.

SOPHOMORES

Remembering that "in unity there is strength" the 216 sophomores banded together under Robert Jelinski, president. Other officers were: Bernice Rothweiler, vice-president; Victoria Grummel, secretary; Jack Schmitt, treasurer; and Josephine D'Amato, Maurice Schueller, and Henry Wideman, counsellors.

Early in the year the family spirit was fostered when the class went for an outing at Estabrook Park. Bringing forth their dramatic talent the sophomores staged a Thanksgiving Program, in which the punishments of the Pilgrims were compared with the present Messmer detention system. With another display of talent they entertained the assembly with the sophomore amateur program.

On Ascension Thursday the group held a second outing—this time on the banks of the Menominee River.

The class led in ads and patrons for The Rivals program with Patricia Otto as high scorer, and Vea Mae Zens, runner-up.

The 328 peppy freshmen were distributed in nine homerooms. During the year, the organization of clubs, both for educational and entertainment purposes, constituted a large portion of their extra curricular activities. One of these was the "Cheer 'Em Up Club" whose function it was to visit students in hospitals and "cheer 'em up." Two other lively groups were the "Model Airplane Club," initiated by boys interested in model airplane building, and the "Culture Club."

Not to be outdone in any field, the freshman homerooms worked especially hard to help the missions. During the Christmas season they sent boxes of supplies to the Indian orphanages in Harbor Springs, Michigan, and New Mexico.

Their year for contact with celebrities was satisfied as a result of an English project in which they wrote to famous authors.

Winning three hockey titles the '37-'8 hockey team enjoyed the most successful season in the school's history. Besides winning the State American Legion title the pucksters also won the Southeastern hockey championship which automatically made them Milwaukee city champions. A total of thirteen games were won against only one setback.

The pucksters were ably led into all of their games by Captain Harry Nycz. Five boys were placed on the all Southeastern first and second teams. These included Al Karolczyk, goalie, who made the first team for the second straight year; Joe Ropella, wing, who was also a repeater on the first squad; and Hank Blasczyk, defense, Captain Harry Nycz, center, and Gil Stoltman, defense, were placed on the second honor squad.

Only Ed Posluszny and Gil Stoltman will return as the backbone of next year's squad. Harry Nycz, Joe Ropella, Ed Kowaleski, Hank Blasczyk, Jerry Burkhardt, Al Karolczyk, and Jerry Hemmerich have donned the Messmer uniform for the last time. Much credit for the team's wonderful showing must be accorded to Coach Dermody, who has built up hockey into one of the major sports on the Messmer sports curriculum.

With a record of three victories, four defeats, and two ties, the varsity gridgers took over undisputed second place in the Catholic Conference during the 1937 campaign. Only a one point defeat at the hands of Pio Nono prevented them from taking the championship. A tie with St. John ruined their chances of tying for the league title.

Five boys were honored on the All-conference first and second teams. Captain Florian Posluszny, husky tackle, was selected at a tackle post on the first squad. Frank Granitz, Bob Barnett, Bob Masters, and Alex Gadian were also placed on the honor squads. Frank Granitz, Bob Barnett, Bob Masters, and Alex Gadian were also placed on the honor squads. Frank Granitz led the league in scoring with a total of 33 points. Close behind him was Bob Barnett who garnered 31 points to take runner-up honors.

Captain Posluszny, Frank Granitz, Ed Mueller, Alex Gadian, Bob Leonard, Hank Blasczyk, Ed. Calteaux, Len Seeman, Bob Carney, Harry Nycz, Milo Tobin, Ed Kowalewski, and Frank Reischel will not return for the next season. However among the outstanding men coming back is Bob Masters. Much credit must be given to Len Seeman and Ed Calteaux for their steady play throughout the entire season. They were always in there fighting no matter how tough the going became. Although never outstanding from the grandstand, they were invaluable.

Close games were lost to south Division, the season's opener, and to Pio Nono. The defeat at the hands of Pio Nono was especially hard to take, as the margin of victory was a single extra point. This year marked the second straight year that the Blue Wave gridgers took over second place.

Winning five while losing nine games, the bucketeers enjoyed a fair season. Although they lost more games than they won, they scored almost as many points as their opponents. They garnered a total of 344 points to their opponents' 361.

The varsity cagers scored almost at will in defeating St. Pius XI twice. In both games they displayed a highly polished offensive attack. However they looked very bad in several other games, notably against Marquette High, who were the league champions, and against the alumni. In the first Marquette tilt, the cagers had the Junior Hilltoppers on the run for three quarters but could not hold the killing pace, and lost out in the final quarter. Close games were lost to Rufus King and to St. Johns. The Rufus King game was decided only in the last minute of the game on a free throw.

Dick Collentine was the only player to make an all-conference berth. He was placed on the second team at a guard position. Next year's squad has a wealth of material coming up. Outstanding among this material are Ray Kuffel, giant center, Ken Heinz, Poppy Cunningham, Dick Collentine, Bob Gleason, and Ray Van Male. Dr. George Collentine, who has taken over the coaching in the absence of Coach Carnachan, has worked out a fast team that will go places next season.

GRADUATING BASKETBALL LETTERMEN

Next year's squad will miss several fine players when the 1938-'39 season rolls around on the hardwood courts. After three years' service on the Blue and White team, Frank Granitz, Florian Posluszny, Ed Mueller, Chuck Stehling, Jim Literski, John Jung, and Bob Leonard have played their last game.

Frank Granitz and Florian Posluszny were two of the best rebound men ever to don the Messmer uniform. Chuck Stehling was one of the outstanding ball handlers in the conference and Ed Mueller was known for his famous hook shot. All of these boys were especially adept at the game and were known throughout the conference for their ability. They all did their best to keep Messmer on top during their careers.

FROSH RESULTS

The freshman football and basketball squads under the direction of "Doc" Collentine scored 11 victories against 7 defeats. The pigskinners won two and lost two while the bucketeers fared better with a record of nine wins and five losses.

INTRA-MURAL CHAMPIONS

Displaying the best balanced team that has ever taken the floor in the history of the homeroom tournament, room 306 ran away with the championship. In the final game they defeated room 112 to bring the title to a senior room for the first time.

FENCING

Fencing is the youngest but not the least promising among the school's sports activities. The squad faced strong competition when they met West Division High School's experienced team, but nothing daunted they kept up practice, sometimes under great difficulties, to the end of the season.

GOLF

Although enjoying only a fair season, the golfers managed to have a good time throughout the spring schedule. Matches were played with West Bend, St. John's M. A., Whitefish Bay, Pio Nono, and West Allis.

Only two veterans, Jimmy Lawrie and Harold Eckl, formed the backbone of the team. Neal Schlosser improved rapidly as the season started under way and joined the first team with Eckl, Lawrie, and Ed Posluszny. Ferd Meyer and Ray Schneck acted as alternates.

BOXING

Bringing to a close the 1938 boxing season, 14 champions were crowned in the open and novice classes of the fourth annual boxing show. Three boys retained their crowns which they won last year. These boys were Jerry Lenartz, Ray Orlikowski, and Jerry Toschik. Orlikowski scored a first round knockout over Jack Kortsch to win his third straight crown in as many years. He was easily the outstanding boxer in the entire tournament.

In the heavyweight class, Bob Masters was dethroned by John Weiss in a slugfest. Masters had to give away too much weight to Weiss and tired in the third round. The bout in which the most science was displayed was in the 126 pound open class between Bob Shanahan and Jerry Toschik. Toschik emerged the winner by a close margin. Art Kaszubowski outpunched Don Ptaschinski in the 97 pound novice class as did John Wetter over Dick Wronski in the novice 118 pound class.

After scoring technical knockouts in every one of his previous bouts, Erv Sutschek completed his string by stopping Ray Newell in the novice 135 pound class finals. In a fast bout Sylvester Miller outpointed Fred Synold in the 105 pound novice division. Roderick Stemo disposed of Ray Sommers to win the title in the 112 pound novice class.

Among the bigger boys, Hank Blasczyk outpunched Joe Lococo for the 160 pound novice title. Val Jelacic was too clever for Matt Gross in the 175 pound novice class and won easily. Charles Jelacic upset Charles Struck in the 160 pound open class finals to dethrone last year's champion. Probably the two fastest boys of all the contestants in the tourney met in the open class 112 pound division. They were Jerry Lenartz, who took the decision, and Dick Schwoegler, runnerup.

This year a record for attendance was set with the total number of fans well over 3600 for the shows. Messmer is fast acquiring a name as a center of amateur boxing. The attractive shows that are always sponsored are due to the unusual talent.

SCHOOL OFFICERS

"Efficiency personified" aptly describes the 1938 school officers as they presided over the assemblies. Without the wholehearted co-operation of the faculty and student body they could not have functioned so well.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council fostered a spirit of co-operation and unselfishness among the students by arbitrating on all matters to benefit the majority. They published a weekly bulletin for the homerooms, voted in girls for the cheerleading squad, and sponsored competitive amateur programs.

AIRPLANE CLUB

The purpose of the Model Airplane Club is to familiarize the members with the different stages of model airplane construction. Every two weeks the club sponsors contests in which every member displayed or flew his completed model. During the year they constructed about fifty different planes.

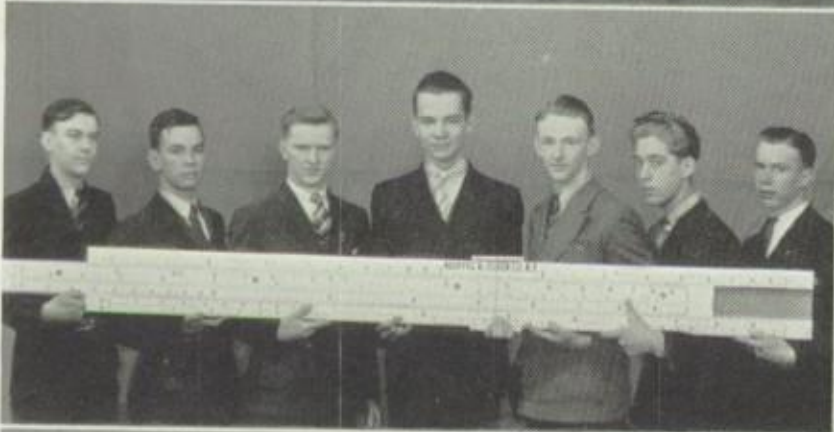

ACOLYTES

The acolytes were faithful in serving at the daily Masses in the Sisters' Convent and in school. Besides, they assisted at the weekly Benediction services and at the Sisters' Mass on Sundays.

AIRPLANE CLUB

Top Row: J. Firkins, H. Strupp, L. Lueders, P. Inkman, W. Hassler, R. Burke, A. Kudac . . . Second Row: R. Kellina, G. Whitney, F. Schaeffer, W. Stevens, P. Wanvig, O. Kowski . . . Bottom Row: R. Holehouse, F. Koby, Mr. H. Kosmicki, J. Schmitt, D. Wenzel.

CHEERLEADERS

E. Jezo, V. Osmanski, J. Wimsey, B. Rothweiler, R. Gebhardt.

"Rah! Messmer! Boom-chic-a-boom!" roared the students enthusiastically at the football and basketball games, where, under the capable direction of the cheerleaders, they "raised the roof." Two girls were added to the squad this year.

SENIOR MATH

E. Jakubek, J. Neary, E. Konieczny, V. Verhaalen, K. Kuemmel, G. Krauss, J. Stoiber.

The senior Math Club, all fourth year math students, met every Friday and studied the use of the slide rule and the surveyor's transit. In a practical application of their work they measured the school building with the transit.

C. S. M. C.

M. A. Gleissner, E. Kressbach, A. Wehse, A. Mihm.

The Messmer unit of the C. S. M. C. has as its primary objective to become better acquainted with the work of the Missions.

DEBATING

Top Row: J. Lawrie, M. Watry, M. Shanovich, V. Auer, M. Riede.

Bottom Row: R. Sherburne, I. Walzack, D. Jeffords, M. Krieg, A. Dorn.

This year's debate topic, Resolved: That the several states should amend their constitution to provide for unicameralism, offered a challenge and stimulation to these inexperienced debaters.

SODALITY

Top Row: E. Kane, G. Rourk, E. Jakubek, L. Deppisch, M. Pesch.

Bottom Row: G. Riemer, R. Sherburne, Reverend J. M. Voelker, Director, A. Dorn, C. Rogers.

Under competent, enthusiastic leadership the Sodality undertook spiritual and temporal activities. Among these are listed: observance of Mary's days, crowning of the May Queen, study of "Divini Redemptoris", distribution of literature to outside institutions, and vocation cards.

LIBRARY CLUB

M. Lindner, P. Lechmaier, M. Imhoff.

The 40 Library Club members gave efficient and helpful service to the students during library periods.

GERMAN CLUB

M. Guttman, L. Hoffman, V. Grummel, E. Pfaff, G. Hotton, E. Braunreiter, J. Literski, C. Hallwass.

The 50 German Club members were students from the second semester to the eighth semester German classes. At the club meetings they studied German history, culture, and literature and for entertainment sang German folk songs.

POLISH CLUB

F. Posluszny, J. Ropella, R. Orlikowski, M. Bolda, E. Sadjak.

By means of slides, lectures, and research the fast-growing Polish Club delved into the history and customs of Poland. The observance of several Polish national holidays was a highlight of their meetings.

JUNIOR MATH

Top Row: E. Jakubek, E. Posluszny, G. Searing, B. Collins.

Bottom Row: J. Ranftl, J. O'Donnell, H. Nycz, V. Auer.

At weekly Friday meetings the Junior Math Club members learned the application of math in aeronautics and engineering.

FRENCH CLUB

B. Beaudoin, L. Strupp, R. Czuppa, C. Anderson, D. Marten, G. Gissenas, J. Trotter.

The "Sept et Sept" was organized the past year by the French students in the advanced classes. It and "Le Cercle Francais," for first year students, emphasized the study of the drama in France at their meetings.

LATIN CLUB

V. Gough, F. Synold, R. Sherburn, B. Hargarten, L. Deppisch, F. Hood, G. Kulzick, D. Stefanski.

This year for the first time the Latin students organized clubs. The juniors called themselves "Inter Nos;" the seniors "M. A. L. S." Meetings, twice a month, were conducted with the formality of the old Roman Senate.

STAGE CREW

M. Tobin, D. Shanahan, M. Grace, G. Austrup, N. Czaja, R. Vinette, G. Knitter.

This group practically ran the show though they were not in the limelight at any of the school's dramatic productions. To them in part belongs the credit of the success of "The Jade God" and "The Rivals."

HISTORIC COSTUMES

G. Wagner, N. Seiberlich, J. Jongebloed, B. Gagliano.

CULTURE CLUB

M. Frkovich, P. Schueller, N. Seiberlich, J. Puechner, E. Lombardi, R. Baertlein, W. Walterlin.

Bottom Row: J. Walzer, D. Schimmels, J. Neary, K. Fransway, C. Berres, G. Hemmerich, R. Emmerich, G. Walker, V. Verhaalen.

3½ YEAR GRADUATES

B. Schedler, I. Kroka, F. Makal, A. Remsick, A. Gadian, P. Kastenholz, J. Ranftl.

FATHER STEHLING'S FIRST GRADERS

These graduates had the unusual experience of being accompanied through twelve years of school life by the same priest. They entered first grade at Holy Angels when Father Stehling became an assistant there. When they were ready for high school Father Stehling became financial administrator at Messmer.

3½ YEAR GRADUATES

These hard-working students completed the regular four-year course in three and one-half years. To do this it was necessary for each student to either carry five subjects a year or attend summer school sessions. Despite this added work, each found time to participate in extra-curricular activities.

LESTER AND LARRY

What DiMaggio is to the New York Yankees, what Jonson was to Boswell, what a mother is to a home, that is what Lester Simons and Larry Sossong are to Messmer. In 1928, one year after the school was founded, Larry and Les were added to the personnel. Anyone likes a clean, comfortable place in which to live. That's how these two men have kept the school. What would The Capitol staff have done without them when the Morrison Studio men came to take the pictures? How'd we ever have movies if Les didn't operate the machine for us? What would the football men do without the truck—and Les? What would happen to the school if Larry and Les didn't report on time every day?

GIRLS OF ROOM 302 IN CROWNING OF THE MAY QUEEN

Left to Right: W. Walterlin, B. Bykowski, L. Barnes, C. Peckman, R. Baertlein, C. La Croix, L. Klauck, B. Gagliano, G. Wagner, M. Lass (seated).
